- ✓ The full and final version of the manuscript files will be submitted.
- ✓ In order to aid discovery of your work and therefore sales please can you supply us with abstracts for each chapter of no more than 150 words each (these will not be included in the printed book, or form part of the overall word count) and a list of keywords/phrases for each chapter - maximum 6 words/phrases per chapter – when you submit the final manuscript to us. This information will form part of the essential meta-data we disseminate for each of our new titles to ensure advance promotion of your work. (There is no need to supply us with these if your work is an Elgar Advanced Introduction or a Textbook.)
- ✓ No material is missing. Please include (where applicable/relevant) preliminary pages, Table of Contents (TOC), chapters, figures, maps, tables and boxes, references, bibliography, appendices, preface, foreword.
- ✓ Each chapter is saved in a separate file using the 'Save as...' option to save the most recent version of each file. Save and label individual chapter files with the following file names: 00-prelims, 01-chapter 1, 02-chapter2 etc. If there is more than one prelims files please number 00a-prelims, 00b-TOC, 00c-figures list, etc. so that the files appear in the correct order.
- ✓ Chapter titles match those on the Table of Contents. Number all chapters on the TOC and in the manuscript files.
- ✓ A 'List of Contributors' is included for edited books. Alphabetically ordered with either a brief affiliation or a short biographical paragraph. Please follow one style or the other.
- ✓ Figures, tables, maps and boxes should be clear, sharp and legible in black and white only. Include lists of these if there are more than five and less than 20 of each. Please save figures, tables, maps and boxes in separate files and do not embed these in the text.
- ✓ All copyright permissions are cleared prior to your submitting the final manuscript files. Check that any contributors have cleared copyright permissions for any material that is not original to their chapter. This would include: extracts from published works, photographs, illustrations, graphs, tables, charts, maps and any other figures.
- ✓ Any contributors are aware their chapters will be included and will be submitted shortly to us.
- ✓ Please supply us with you and your contributors ORCID numbers.
- ✓ The description of your book will appear on the book cover, in catalogues, on our website and Elgaronline. It is also a vital part of the meta-data sent out ahead of publication. It is therefore crucial that we get this written in good time. Please include your answers to the questions below when you submit the final manuscript files. We will then prepare the description and send on to you for your approval.
 1. Please describe the book in non-technical layman's terms (in no more than 150 words). Include brief details of the book's main objectives and conclusions. This should be written as if coming from the publisher.
 2. In certain circumstances we may have to describe your book in a few words. Please write a short statement that aptly describes your book's scope and theme.

3. If you were researching in this general topic, which 6 keywords would you use to find books and articles of interest in Google?
4. Please list, in 5 or 6 bullet points, the special features of the book. Include elements that distinguish it from any existing books in the same subject area.
5. Please list, in order of importance, the prime potential readership for your book and the reasons for their interest.

We prefer to receive Microsoft Word files for all our books. If however your manuscript or chapters are highly mathematical and you prefer to prepare it in LaTeX, please discuss this with your Commissioning Editor before submitting the files.

Please refer to our Author/Editor Guidelines and FAQ documents for more detailed advice and information, or feel free to raise any queries with your Commissioning Editor.

Following submission of your manuscript, it is very important that you maintain close email contact with the Editorial team at EEP, as there will be several queries you will need to answer before your manuscript can be sent to Production.

Following submission, a brief preliminary check will be made by one of our editorial team, who will ensure that all relevant information and material has been supplied. You should then expect to receive a detailed point-by-point email asking you to confirm or supply any additional outstanding material. It is essential that we have these issues clarified before your manuscript can proceed to the production stage, so please ensure that you are available to respond to this email as promptly as possible.
