Governing Law and Dispute Resolution in the Oil and Gas Industry

Elgar Energy Law and Practice series

Edited by Eduardo G. Pereira, Professor of Natural Resources and Energy Law as an honorary, adjunct, researcher and/or visiting scholar at a number of leading academic institutions around the world (including the Siberian Federal University, University of Eastern Finland, University of São Paulo, Strathmore University, Agostinho Neto University, University of Aberdeen and the Externado University of Colombia, among others), Tuuli Timonen, Senior Licensing Manager, Nokia Technologies Oy, Finland and Elina Aleynikova, Senior Associate, International Arbitration Group, White & Case LLP, France

The oil and gas industry's wide international exposure and constantly changing landscape leave it particularly vulnerable to disputes. As this practical book demonstrates, the risks associated with disputes can be mitigated by parties utilising governing law and dispute resolution clauses in contractual agreements within the sector. Examining a global range of jurisdictions, the book offers clear guidance on the most appropriate choice of law and choice of dispute resolution forum for oil and gas contracts, analysing the key issues and defining the legal contours involved.
