

The WTO and Poverty and Inequality

Critical Perspectives on the Global Trading System and the WTO series

Edited by L. Alan Winters, University of Sussex, UK

This comprehensive two-volume collection presents key papers on the relationship between international trade and trade policy on the one hand, and poverty and inequality on the other. These relationships highlight the connections between the WTO and income distribution. The analytical and policy context of the volumes is laid out by the editor's introduction and by the first two articles of the collection.

'These volumes assemble an impressive collection of papers on how international trade interacts with poverty and economic development, including both old and new classics and other provocative contributions by the best people in the field. I know that I will consult them frequently.'
