Culture and Economic Action

New Thinking in Political Economy series

Edited by Laura E. Grube, Mercatus Center Dissertation Fellow, George Mason University and Visiting Instructor, Economics Department, Beloit College and Virgil Henry Storr, Senior Research Fellow and Director of Graduate Student Programs, Mercatus Center and Research Associate Professor of Economics, George Mason University, US

This edited volume, a collection of both theoretical essays and empirical studies, presents an Austrian economics perspective on the role of culture in economic action. The authors illustrate that culture cannot be separated from economic action, but that it is in fact part of all decision-making.
