

Democratic Empowerment in the European Union

Interdisciplinary Perspectives on EU Citizenship series

Edited by David Levi-Faur, The Hebrew University of Jerusalem, Israel and Frans van Waarden, Utrecht University, the Netherlands

This book looks at democratic empowerment via institutional designs that extend the political rights of European citizens. It focuses on three themes: first, the positive and negative effects of the European Union institutional design on the political rights of its citizens; second, challenges for democratic regimes across the world in the 21st century in the context of regionalism and globalization; third, the constraints of neoliberalism and capitalist markets on the ability of citizens to effectively achieve their political rights within the Union.
