Research Handbook on Intellectual Property and Investment Law

This innovative Research Handbook explores the complex and controversial interactions between intellectual property (IP) and investment law. In light of recent developments at national, European and international levels, the chapters critically examine the legitimacy of current practices with regard to the social function of IP rights and the regulatory autonomy of States to undertake measures in the public interest.

‘As a Research Handbook, this volume certainly lives up to its name. It is rich with information and will be of great help to researchers, arbitral tribunals, practitioners and policy makers. It is an impressive book as it brings together accomplished and emerging scholars for analysing some of the complexities on intellectual property and investment that allow readers to discern a level of understanding. In that regard, the book successfully makes intellectual property and investment accessible and instructive and therefore should be seen as a valuable contribution to the field.’
– P. Sean Morris, Journal of World Investment & Trade

‘This Research Handbook is an essential resource for anyone working on intellectual property issues that cross international borders. As investment law reshapes the global governance of knowledge, Christophe Geiger has assembled some of the world’s top scholars to address opportunities and challenges. Lawyers, policymakers, academics and students will benefit immensely from this timely collection of expert insights.’
– Jeremy de Beer, University of Ottawa, Canada

‘The recent move to pursue intellectual property claims through international investment law threatens to disrupt the international intellectual property regime. However, it also offers a fascinating window into a number of features of that regime. This thought-provoking book brings together a stellar collection of authors exploring the discrete question of investment protection of intellectual property as well as the broader implications of this development for international intellectual property law.’
– Graeme B. Dinwoodie, Illinois Institute of Technology, Chicago-Kent College of Law, US

‘Most intellectual property scholars lack in-depth understanding of the IP-investment nexus. This much needed book is the solution we need. It provides world-class scholarship on this complex and controversial field of international law whose diverse impacts range from industrial development to public health. Readers will gain a truly global perspective on the subject.’
– Graham Duteld, University of Leeds, UK

2020 560 pp Hardback 978 1 78897 781 4 £205.00  £184.50  $315.00  $283.50

Elgaronline 978 1 78897 782 1

How To Order

Online
www.e-elgar.com
Get up to 20% discount when you order online

By Phone
UK/ROW: +44 (0) 1243 843291
N/S America: (800) 390-3149

Connect With Us

Find us on Facebook
facebook.com/EdwardElgarPublishing

Follow us on Twitter
@ElgarPublishing

Read our Blog
For news, views and debate from our authors and readers.
https://www.elgar.blog

www.elgar.com