Social Innovations, Institutional Change and Economic Performance

Making Sense of Structural Adjustment Processes in Industrial Sectors, Regions and Societies

Edited by Timo J. Hämäläinen, Sitra Fellow, the Finnish Innovation Fund, Finland and Risto Heiskala, Institute for Advanced Social Research, IASR, University of Tampere, Finland

This book examines the nature of social innovation processes which determine the economic and social performance of nations, regions, industrial sectors and organizations.

‘For once the title says it all. To put the book edited by Timo Hämäläinen and Risto Heiskala in short, it aims to explain it all. . . Throughout the book, the reader can sense the enthusiasm and genuine search for new theory. This should be applauded as such. . . Social Innovations, Institutional Change and Economic Performance delivers a collection of conceptually thick accounts on important themes on relevant and eternally important issues. It is recommended to all students of institutional and structural change at all levels of expertise.’
– Markku Sotarauta, Regional Studies

‘A much needed examination of a neglected issue – how societies, regions and institutions adjust to our rapidly changing economic world.’
– W. Brian Arthur, Santa Fe Institute, New Mexico

‘This is a marvellously rich work of synthesis, bringing together a very wide range of theoretical perspectives to make sense of contemporary patterns of economic and social change. Its range of reference is remarkable – and it is further proof that much of the most interesting theoretical and empirical work today is being done on the boundaries of disciplines.’
– Geoff Mulgan, Director, The Young Foundation, Founder, Demos and formerly Head of Policy, Prime Minister’s Office, UK

‘A very relevant and insightful perspective on institutional change and economic renewal in regions, countries and corporations.’
– Yves L. Doz, INSEAD, France
