Theory and Practice of Harmonisation

Edited by Mads Andenas, Professor of Law, University of Oslo, Norway, and formerly Director of the British Institute of International and Comparative Law, London, and the Centre of European Law, King’s College, University of London, UK and Camilla Baasch Andersen, The University of Western Australia

Harmonised and uniform international laws are now being spread across different jurisdictions and fields of law, bringing with them an increasing body of scholarship on practical problems and theoretical dimensions. This comprehensive and insightful book focuses on the contributions to the development and understanding of the critical theory of harmonisation.
